

Andrew Carnegie: The Life of a Titan

Andrew Carnegie was a Scottish-American industrialist and philanthropist who played a key role in the development of the American steel industry. He was born in Dunfermline, Scotland, in 1835, and emigrated to the United States in 1848. He began his career as a bobbin boy in a cotton mill, but quickly rose through the ranks and became a successful businessman. In 1875, he founded Carnegie Steel Company, which became one of the largest and most successful steel companies in the world.
