Are you a new driver in Colorado? If so, then you need to get your hands on the Colorado Practical Handbook for New Drivers. This comprehensive guide will teach you everything you need to know about driving in Colorado, from getting your driver's license to registering your vehicle and getting insured. It also includes information on Colorado's traffic laws and road safety tips.

Getting Your Driver's License

The first step to driving in Colorado is getting your driver's license. To do this, you will need to:

- Be at least 15 years old
- Have a valid Colorado learner's permit
- Pass a driver's license exam

You can apply for a learner's permit at any Colorado Department of Motor Vehicles (DMV) office. To get a learner's permit, you will need to:

- Be at least 15 years old
- Have a valid Colorado ID card or driver's license
- Pass a vision test

Once you have your learner's permit, you can start practicing driving. You must have a licensed driver over the age of 21 in the car with you at all times when you are driving with a learner's permit.

To get your driver's license, you will need to pass a driver's license exam. The exam consists of a written test and a driving test. You can take the written test at any DMV office. To take the driving test, you will need to schedule an appointment at a DMV office.

Registering Your Vehicle

Once you have your driver's license, you will need to register your vehicle. To register your vehicle, you will need to:

- Have a valid Colorado driver's license
- Have proof of ownership of the vehicle
- Pay the registration fee

You can register your vehicle at any Colorado DMV office. You can also register your vehicle online at the Colorado DMV website.

Getting Insured

All drivers in Colorado are required to have car insurance. To get car insurance, you will need to:

- Contact an insurance company
- Provide information about yourself and your vehicle
- Pay the insurance premium

There are many different insurance companies to choose from. It is important to compare quotes from different companies before you decide on a policy.

Colorado's Traffic Laws

Colorado has a number of traffic laws that all drivers must obey. These laws include:

- The speed limit
- The right-of-way
- The rules for driving under the influence of alcohol or drugs
- The rules for driving in bad weather

It is important to be familiar with Colorado's traffic laws before you start driving. You can find more information about Colorado's traffic laws on the Colorado DMV website.

Road Safety Tips

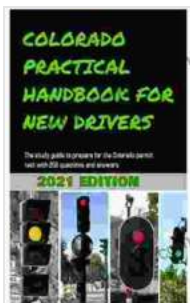

In addition to obeying the traffic laws, there are a number of things you can do to stay safe on the road. These include:

- Wearing your seat belt
- Driving defensively
- Avoiding distractions
- Getting enough sleep
- Driving sober

By following these tips, you can help to reduce your risk of being involved in a car accident.

The Colorado Practical Handbook for New Drivers is an essential resource for new drivers in Colorado. This comprehensive guide will teach you everything you need to know about driving in Colorado, from getting your driver's license to registering your vehicle and getting insured.
